

Wind's Up! guide to windsurfing and kayaking on Martha's Vineyard

Rent a windsurfer or kayak at Wind's Up! on Lagoon Pond: sail or paddle here on location, or car-top half-day, day or weekly rentals to your favorite site (soft roof racks included). The following summarizes some of the best locations having public access.

Windsurfing Guide:

- 1 A Lagoon Pond, Vineyard Haven. Having several miles of water, good wind, and being safely enclosed, Lagoon Pond is excellent for beginners and intermediates, and for practicing basics, beach and water starts, and jibes.
- 2 B Vineyard Haven Harbor. Launch at Eastville Point Beach. Not for beginners. If you're experienced and are sailing here (good in NE and SW wind), note comments about ferries, under SAIL SAFE!
- 3 C State Beach. Off Beach Road (different Beach Rd.), between Oak Bluffs and Edgartown. Sengecontacket Pond, safely enclosed and with good winds, is great for beginners and for practicing intermediates, but may be too shallow in lowest tides. On Cow Bay, the wind is offshore (prevailing), and gets stronger and more choppy as you go out. Don't take too big a sail, and watch for strong currents. Great wave sailing in a Northerly. For experienced sailors only.

4 D If sailing in Edgartown Harbor (intermediate), off Lighthouse Beach or Chappaquiddick, watch boat traffic, stay clear of channel and Chappy Ferry. Sailboards not allowed in inner harbor.

5 E Katama Bay. Small boat launch on Edgartown Bay Rd., left at end of Katama Rd. Good in SW wind; shallow in places, sandbars. Enclosed, but watch strong currents. Off-shore winds call for experienced sailors.

6 South Beach, at Katama. Experts only. Winds on-shore and side-shore (prevailing). Shore break can be difficult, and hazardous to equipment. Watch sharp drop and shifting bottoms. In storms, sand bar builds off-shore, making great waves to jump and ride.

- Numbers denote windsurfing locations.
- Letters indicate kayak locations.

7 F Menemsha Beach, Menemsha. Experienced sailors only. Good in SW and North winds. Chop and swell in sound. Rip current at jetty by Menemsha Pond.

8 G Tisbury Town Beach, at Lake Tashmoo. Advanced site; strong currents.

Note Well: About sand dunes at the beaches: Stay in well established rigging areas, and STAY OFF grassy dunes. Respect and protect these fragile areas. Breakdown of grasses, roots, and dunes causes erosion and destroys nesting sites for endangered shore birds. You also will be respecting and protecting windsurfers' access rights; what's good for one is good for all!

SAIL-SAFE! Windsurfing is one of the safest sports around. Be wise, and keep it that way!! To prevent mishaps, take the following precautions:

- Know your ability, your limitations, and your equipment's limitations.
- Sail with a buddy, preferably, or notify others before launching.
- Be able to self-rescue.
- Stay well clear of all other vessels (including sailboat races), and especially ferries.*

The following are especially important when sailing in open water:

- Check weather and tide reports, watch for strong currents, especially as wind lightens.
- Note visibility; watch for occasional fog.
- Be able to waterstart.
- Use a safety board/mast leash line.
- Carry safety equipment: spare parts, line, knife, whistle, flares, etc.
- Be aware of ferry lanes noted on map. Keep well clear of ferries and ferry lanes.*

- Wear wetsuits when appropriate: note daily conditions.
 - In shallow areas—especially ponds—wear shoes to protect against sharp shells, etc.
- In an emergency:
- STAY WITH YOUR BOARD OR BOAT!
 - Don't panic.
 - Signal for help quickly. (Don't be embarrassed; almost everyone's been there!)
 - Cooperate fully with rescuers.

Help others in trouble:
FOR ALL EMERGENCIES, CALL 911

About Ferries:

- Staying clear is important for your personal safety: breakdowns are possible, and ferries can't stop on a dime.
- In addition, although you may feel perfectly confident, the ferry captains have no clue as to your abilities or intentions. A sailor's perception of "keeping clear" will often vary with those of ferry captains; therefore, you may unwittingly cause consternation and havoc.
- FURTHERMORE, for all the above reasons, failure to keep well clear of all ferries could result in loss of water rights for windsurfers. In fairness to all, KEEP WELL CLEAR

Kayak Guide:

Follow all safety recommendations (SAIL-SAFE!, this brochure) as apply to kayaks. Always wear a life jacket!

Kayak locations are lettered A–L. A–G are coupled with windsurfing sites. See windsurfing guide at left.

H Poucha Pond and Cape Pogue Bay. Take Chappy Ferry; launch at Dyke Bridge.

I Edgartown Great Pond. Take Katama Rd. to Herring Creek Rd., to Meeting House Rd.; after M.H. Rd. becomes dirt, take first left.

J Tisbury Great Pond. Access at Land Bank's Sepiessa Point Reservation at Tiah's Cove. Off Edgartown–West Tisbury Rd., take New Lane (which becomes Tiah's Cove Rd.) for 1.2 miles; turn right on dirt track. Site marked LB, with maps to launch sites. Beaches on ocean side are private.

K Chilmark Pond. Land Bank's Chilmark Pond Preserve. Off South Rd. at Abel's Hill–LB sign. (limited parking and access.)

 At Land Bank properties, use designated public access; respect privacy of landowners.

L Seth's Pond. On Lambert's Cove Rd. Calm, fresh (not salt) water.

Any of the ponds are also excellent for canoeing.

Surf boards and Body boards:

There are waves all along the south shore of the Island; best access is at Katama; watch out for shore break. Sand bars build during storms making great offshore waves. Good surf Up Island at Squibbnocket, Long Point, Aquinnah, etc.; access is restricted.
